DETAILED ACTION

Terminal Disclaimer

1. The terminal disclaimer filed on 2-3-06 disclaiming the terminal portion of any patent granted on this application which would extend beyond the expiration date of 11/138,409 has been reviewed and is accepted. The terminal disclaimer has been recorded.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claim 1-3, 7-9, 11-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Osawa et al.

Osawa et al discloses a method for producing a magnetic recording medium including a smooth coating layer thickness, surface roughness, protrusion number and height as claimed (col 6, lines 45-50; col 8, lines 45-59).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 4-6, 10, 15-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Osawa et al in view of Ryoke et al.

Osawa et al discloses what is described the 35 U.S.C 102 rejection above.

Osawa et al does not explicitly disclose coating solution containing a compound explicitly as radiation-curable or ultraviolet-curable.

Ryoke et al discloses coating solution containing a compound explicitly as "radiation-curable" or "ultraviolet-curable" (col 9, lines 8-37).

It would have been obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art to include coating solution containing a compound explicitly as "radiation-curable" or "ultraviolet-curable" because Osawa et al and Ryoke both teach resins for coating to produce magnetic recording mediums.

6. Claim 13-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Osawa et al in view of Yamazaki et al.

Osawa et al discloses what is described the 35 U.S.C 102 rejection above.

Osawa et al does not explicitly disclose a non-magnetic layer with thickness as claimed, or wet-on-wet coating.

Yamazaki et al discloses disclose a non-magnetic layer with thickness as claimed (col 11, lines 54-64; col 19, lines 19-28), or wet-on-wet coating (col 8, lines 15-34).

It would have been obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art to include a non-magnetic layer with thickness as claimed because Yamazaki et al teaches multi-layer a alternative techniques (col 19, lines 10-18).

It would have been obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art to include wet-on-wet coating because Yamazaki et al teaches alternative coating techniques for producing a magnetic recording medium (col 8, lines 15-34).

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments filed 2-3-06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Since Osawa et al discloses the same final result there is inherently a "smoothing" coating layer. The layer resultant in the prior art has the same final properties as claimed. The term "smoothing" per se does not yet differentiate over the prior art or record.

Conclusion

8. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
